New Beginnings for Lairen Vogan

After tilling the soil of Rachel's Vineyard, I have had the unique blessing and privilege of empowering many leaders from all over the world. My time with each person and group has enriched my life and my spirituality in so many ways, as we are all connected as brothers and sisters in the work of the Vineyard. Raising up leaders and volunteers followed by the eventual pain of releasing them into new adventures, or the sorrow and tragedies of illnesses and death, is always a reminder to savor the present moment and the giftedness of each person God has called to serve alongside us.

Indeed, saying goodbye always provokes a deep sadness and sense of loss for one you have shared the depths of healing, growth, challenge, new births, and tragedy through various seasons in our lives.

When I learned that Lairen Vogan, who has served as my "administrative assistant" over the past 10 years at our International Office, had unexpectedly been offered a new job with double the salary and the ability to work fully remote, obviously I knew I could not compete with this incredible opportunity; especially as cost of living and fuel skyrockets! I was aware of such a mixed, conflicting bag of feelings as I thought about her competency in handling all our new sites, the daily requests for information, and the connection and friendship she grew with so many of you. With our International Leaders Conference right around the corner, and with Katie O'Donnell just finishing her maternity leave with two babies under 2, I recognized my incredible dependency on Lairen, and I know we both felt an incredible grief.

As Joyce Rupp notes in the beginning of her book Praying Our Goodbyes, "We are all touched by gain and loss, joy and sorrow, life and death, union and separation. One of the many challenges in the spiritual life is not to allow suffering and loss to immobilize us or plunge us into depression but to carry on with courage and hope. Although many of us identify the word 'goodbye' with bittersweet partings, there is another way of seeing it:

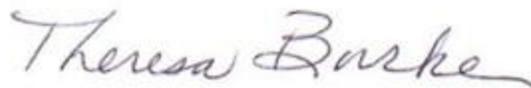

The word goodbye — originally 'Go-with-God' — was a recognition that God was a significant part of the going. When you dreaded or feared the journey there was strength in remembering that the One who gave, and cherished life would be there to protect and to console. Goodbye was a blessing of love, proclaiming the belief that if God went with you, you would never be alone, that comfort, strength, and all the other blessings of a loving presence would accompany you."

I wish to share how grateful I am for Lairen's decade of service and care, not just in the office, but as a friend. We work together in a very small space to faithfully fulfill the mission of Rachel's Vineyard, and we've also negotiated the challenges and changes of life. She was here when she welcomed her two precious children into the world and embarked on the joys of parenthood. I can honestly say that Lairen has been a treasure; a beautiful gem that I appreciate with all my heart. And I know I speak for all of us in this ministry because she helped me behind the scenes to oversee all the trainings, leadership conferences, crisis calls, new site leaders' concerns, management of day-to-day operations, and every other thing you can possibly imagine.

Thank you, Lairen, for bearing it all with a smile and with so much love for all of us! We will miss you dearly!

With all my love & gratitude,

Q&A

Lairen Reflects on the Last 10 Years

What has been your favorite part of the many hats you've worn at Rachel's Vineyard?

I have spent very close to the last decade here at Rachel's Vineyard; working alongside Dr Theresa Burke and Katie D'Annunzio has been so rewarding! When I started, I couldn't fathom being here that long. I started as an extremely pro-choice person who was offered a 3-month position as a maternity leave replacement. Almost as soon as I started, I became so affected by the stories of pain and loss from those who attended the retreat that I realized, what seems so obvious now, abortion is not a quick fix to the 'problem' I had thought it was. When they offered me a full-time position, I did not hesitate to say yes!! My favorite part of this job has been working behind the scenes to support our sites so that they could bring their retreat attendees closer to the healing they so greatly deserve!

What will you miss the most/fondest memory?

Each day in the office looked a little different, which is really nice for an office job! There was never a dull day, we were always moving fast! I think I will simply miss the relationships I have with each of our site leaders, and with Theresa, Katie D and Katie O. I feel that we have truly woven into each other's lives, and it is hard to believe that I won't be seeing them every week anymore, although we will be keeping in touch!

What are you looking forward to?

My new position will push me outside of my comfort zone and into the world of finance & billing; I am looking forward to that! However, I have built so many bonds with our site leaders and team members, I know I will miss the caring culture of the vineyard family! This new position will open so many doors for me to help me build a strong career, something I have always wanted!

Anything else you'd like to share?

I want to say thank you to Theresa, Katie, and Katie O, for being there when I needed them, for walking alongside me these last 10 years and helping me grow into the person I am today! I also want to thank all our team members and leaders whom I have gotten to know so well. You have all helped shaped me, as well! I will always have such a special place in my heart for all of you and pray that we meet again on our journeys ahead!

Virtual Conference Update

We have a wonderful opportunity to roll out our Leadership Conference in a way that will be more advantageous for participants, presenters, and our Rachel's Vineyard team. The convergence of a few situations – not the least of which is our treasured team member, Lairen, moving to a different career – have enabled us to look at our Conference and review our goals. We'd like these gatherings to be a joint effort between the people who have served Rachel's Vineyard for so many years, our staff, and Priests for Life.

Instead of starting our Conference in September, we'll be starting it in November, and we'll be presenting one day of courses per month. As many of our Rachel's Vineyard team members work full time, this will be less demanding on everyone's schedule and allow participants to dive into each subject more fully.

We also want to expand our library of classes to include those presented by the people who have served Rachel's Vineyard for so many years (of course, we'll continue to offer courses by Dr. Theresa Burke, Dr. Martha Shuping, Msgr. Michael Mannion, Fr. Frank Pavone, Janet Morana, and more)! We'd like to take this opportunity to invite you to present any class ideas to us that you would like to teach.

There are other benefits we're addressing, as well, and we'll give you that information as it's finalized.

If you have any questions, please feel free to contact our office at (610) 354-0555 or at Conference2022@LivingScriptureInstitute.org.

Rachel's Vineyard Retreats Offer Post-Abortion Healing

By: Elizabeth Wong Barnstead

A statue of Our Lady of Sorrows is seen at St. Joseph Monastery in Whitesville, Ky. It's where the western Kentucky Rachel's Vineyard retreats often take place. (CNS photo/Elizabeth Wong Barnstead, Western Kentucky Catholic)

OWENSBORO, Ky. (CNS) — Megan was “at first super-excited” when she learned about the concept of a Rachel’s Vineyard retreat, “but as the date got closer I got nervous,” she said.

Rachel’s Vineyard, an international program that started in 1995, now offers weekend retreats worldwide that aim to bring healing for women and men suffering from the effects of abortion.

Megan, who asked that her last name not be used, said she almost turned around on her way to the retreat.

But she decided to continue and found it to be a positive experience that she said helped her deal with repressed emotions from her experience with an abortion 30 years ago.

“Coming through the retreat, I found that God forgives,” she told The Western Kentucky Catholic, newspaper of the Diocese of Owensboro.

Today, Megan is part of the team with Rachel’s Vineyard of Kentucky.

“I’ve always wanted to help people who were in my situation, but I didn’t know how,” she said. Now she feels she can “make a difference in other people’s lives.”

Father Ben Cameron, a priest of the Fathers of Mercy religious community based in Auburn, Kentucky, helped start Rachel’s Vineyard of Kentucky and is the site leader of the western Kentucky team.

He said Rachel’s Vineyard team leaders are usually laywomen, but he has remained in this role since the team’s beginning in 2005 and knows a number of fellow priests who also serve in Rachel’s Vineyard’s healing ministry.

The priest said the retreat design can help people process other types of grief, such as miscarriages or even knowing someone else who experienced an abortion.

Ultimately, the purpose of the retreat is “helping men and women open their hearts to Jesus Christ as the healer,” he said, adding that “it is not just emotional, but a spiritual journey of the heart.”

“I’ve seen people come in very hardened, perhaps hateful of men, and walk out completely different,” he said.

A typical retreat has a team of six or seven people, including a facilitator, a priest, a professional therapist, a person who does the audio/visual, and one or two people who lead the readings, meditations and prayers.

Although the founder of Rachel’s Vineyard, Theresa Karminski Burke, is Catholic, the program offers a Catholic version and an interdenominational version.

The priest said generally, more women come than men, but it is always open to both. Participants also must be at least 18 years of age but that “you’re never too old to make the retreat.”

Father Cameron said that if someone has a person in their life that had an abortion “that person may be hurting deeply. They don’t feel they have permission to grieve.” He said “offering to go and make the retreat with them may open the door for someone — saying ‘I would love to walk this with you.’”

In fact, hopeafterabortionky.com, the website for Rachel’s Vineyard of Kentucky, encourages people to consider inviting their spouse or support person to accompany them on the retreat.

He said Rachel’s Vineyard has found that many people who had abortions also had been sexually abused, which led Burke to develop a sister retreat in 2005 called Grief to Grace, for individuals to find healing who have endured physical, emotional, sexual and/or spiritual abuse.

Sometimes people bring their stories of abuse to Rachel’s Vineyard and it can help them heal, “but for some, the trauma is so deep that they need something more,” he said.

Ministering with Rachel’s Vineyard has shown him “some of the most powerful experiences of being a spiritual father and shepherd. It’s made me so much more cognizant of the pain and trauma that people experience.”

Megan encourages anyone who might need to attend a Rachel’s Vineyard retreat to consider signing up, stressing: “God is forgiving and he will accept you in his open arms. You are worth it. You don’t need to carry around this burden anymore.”

“As my sufferings mounted

Note from the Pastoral Director

Dear Friends,

I'm writing just after a vote in Kansas failed to adopt a pro-life amendment to their Constitution. The amendment would have made it clear that there is no right to abortion in the state Constitution and that taxpayers are not obliged to fund it.

Because the amendment failed, Kansas will become a destination point for abortion from surrounding states where it is less available. Abortions in Kansas could rise by 1000%.

As will the wounds.

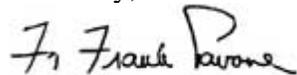

A point I've been making in the media today is one that we all see clearly in the work of Rachel's Vineyard:

When a “victory” means more abortion, nobody wins.

Abortion supporters think they have a victory. But for whom? Certainly not for children in the womb; certainly not for moms and dads, who will be devastated by abortion; certainly not for grandparents and other relatives, who will also grieve the child who is lost; certainly not for friends and others who assist in the abortion; certainly not for the abortionists or abortion advocates, who are deeply damaged and dehumanized, and certainly not for the rest of us, who grieve the children we could not save.

Let the healing begin... in Kansas and throughout the world. Let Rachel's Vineyard continue to grow, and through its example of all-embracing healing, proclaim to our society that there is never victory in abortion, but only in Christ.

Sincerely,

Fr. Frank Pavone
